3. Scope of works/Technical specifications

3.1 BACKGROUND TO SOUTH AFRICA

International studies over more than 200 years indicate that cities are significantly hotter than surrounding rural areas. All over the globe, concrete, brick and black top tar roads soak up the sun's rays, then re-emit them as heat long night has fallen. Additionally, waste heat from the energy we use to power our buildings, vehicle emissions, and even air conditioning units can cause some cities to be as many as 2°C warmer than their rural surroundings—creating “urban heat islands” (UHI). The UHI negatively impacts humans and the concurrent air quality problems are exacerbated by heat. Cool Surfaces (roofs, walls, paving) not only passively cools electrified buildings, but can also reduce the cost of cooling electrified/air-conditioned buildings (up to 20% savings on the top floor).

THIS PROJECT TERMS OF REFERENCE SPECIFIC BACKGROUND

This project is part of a collaborative agreement between SANEDI and the Department of Defence (DOD) aiming to address two main goals, viz., skills development and pilot project implementation for renewable and energy efficient project implementation and monitoring. The energy efficiency technology to be rolled out as a collaborative project between SANEDI and DOD is cool surfacing* of ca. 900 000m<sup>2</sup> using infra-red paint products.

*A Cool Surface is any material used in the building envelope that cools the building using passive energy (no generated energy needed to make it work). Cool Surfaces are measured by the amount of light reflected off the surface and the amount of heat it prevents from being absorbed into the building.

3.2 Project Objectives

The key objectives of this project, through introducing cool surface technology and skills within the DOD, are to:

- Apply ca. 900 000m<sup>2</sup> of area coated with Infra-red product at multiple pre-identified DOD installations/bases across Limpopo Province
- Decrease demand/load on energy systems and thus electricity and/or diesel generator use and cost
- Increase hardware lifetime expectancy (especially by reducing load on electrical hardware)
- Improve energy security through above measures
- Increase Human Capacity Development (HCD) and knowledge base
- Improving occupancy thermal comfort under living and operational conditions for military members

3.3 Scope of Works

PRODUCT SUPPLY, TRAINING & INSTALLATION

The contractor must comply with the following across all ca. 900 000m<sup>2</sup>:

- Appropriate minor surface repairs where applicable
- Appropriate and compliant surface preparation and water proofing products and materials where applicable

TERMS OF REFERENCE

- Application of appropriate and compliant primers where applicable
- Application of the Infra-red product (passive cooling)

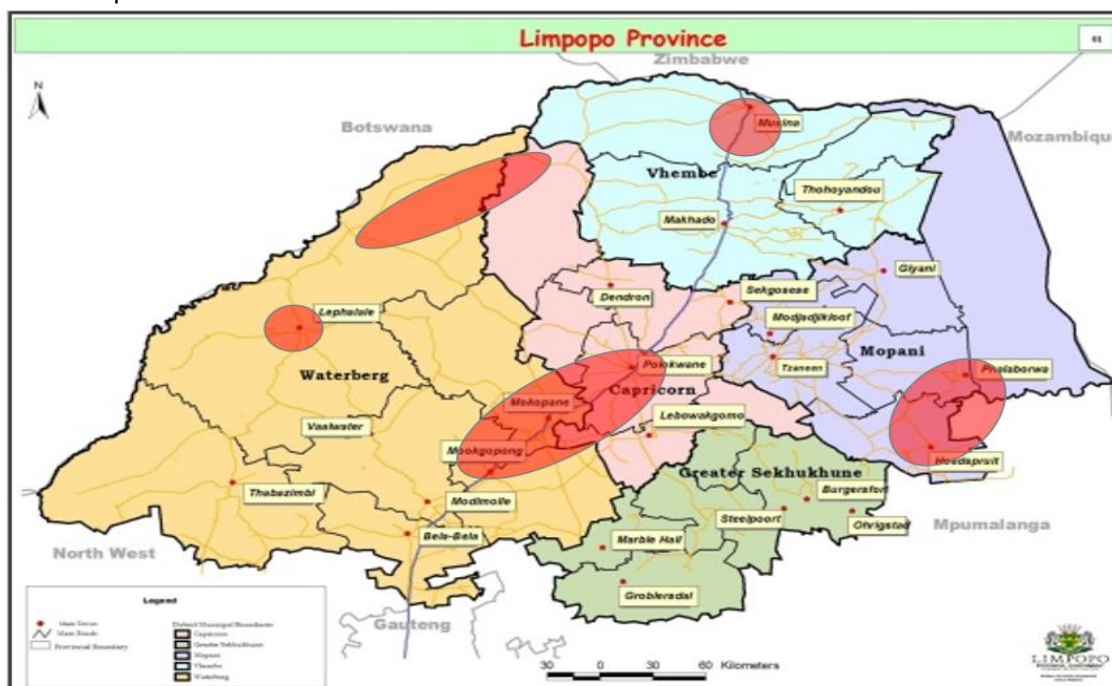

Requirements for deliverables:

- Manufacturer must provide written recommendations for optimal application of product
- Clear calculations and breakdown of Quantities: Costs of product to be priced per m<sup>2</sup> for primer (if required) and coating.

The deliverables for the project will be the following:

- The project manager must be present at the SANDF upskilling course
- A detailed Project Plan for the roll out of product, labour and timelines on ca. 900 000m<sup>2</sup>
- Technical Report including assumptions, metrics, repairs and any other relevant technical information per base
- Weekly progress updates with photographic evidence in an electronic format (email) in accordance with applicable national security protocols of the SANDF
  - Update to include relevant challenges and progress
  - Records of laborers' attendance, conduct, disciplinary processes etc. if applicable (template provided by SANEDI)
  - Any challenges with SANDF members to be communicated with SANEDI and SANDF project representatives, for resolution
- Written minutes of all meetings held
- The completed 480 000m<sup>2</sup> roof surfaces satisfactorily coated as per product manufacturer's specifications

The identified sites selected for efficient implementation are spread across Limpopo Province as highlighted in the graphic below. Other sites will be coated by trained SANDF members, only product will be required for these sites.

TERMS OF REFERENCE

The roof areas on the specific sites are mostly IBR and/or corrugated iron, some other materials including various type of tiles, cement fiber composite, galvanized steel and other materials. Most surfaces are in a fairly good state of repair. It must be noted that surfaces require prior treatment and are to be primed accordingly before Infra-red paint product application. The site cluster (ca. 900 000m<sup>2</sup>) is divided as follows:
